Boxing Events – Medal Lists Only

The weight classes have changed multiple times over the years, as well as the number of events. Because of this, we are only providing national lists of records. For all weight-class sports, to try to make some consistency between events, we have developed a system classifying all weight classes as only heavyweight (the heaviest class), lightweight (the lightest class), and middleweight (the middle-weight class, or just above it), and then use sub- and supra- to classify all the other weight classes.
